Nonhuman Primate Models for AIDS

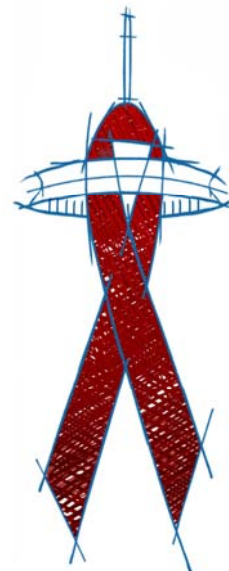

36th Annual Symposium

October 2 – 5, 2018

Seattle, Washington

The HIV pandemic continues to have an enormous impact on the health and well-being of the world's population. Despite sustained efforts to eradicate the disease, approximately 40 million people are currently infected with HIV and another 2.7 million new infections occur each year. Important advances in prevention and treatment have significantly impacted infection and survival rates, however more work is essential to prevent future infections and provide relief to already infected individuals.

The Washington National Primate Research Center at the University of Washington is hosting the 36th Annual Symposium on Nonhuman Primate Models for AIDS at Bell Harbor International Conference Center in Seattle from October 2 – 5, 2018. This annual meeting is the leading forum for the exchange of the latest developments in AIDS research using nonhuman primates and attracts the world's foremost researchers to share their findings and ideas for preventing the spread of AIDS. Findings and outcomes from this symposium will have a global audience.

Title Events Available to Sponsor

Sponsorship of the Evening Gala Cocktail Welcome Reception Tuesday, October 2, 2018

The Welcome Reception will take place at The Edgewater Hotel's Olympic Ballroom. Floor-to-ceiling windows provide an unobstructed panoramic view of Elliott Bay, the islands of Puget Sound and the Olympic Range beyond. Wine, beer and hors d'oeuvres will be served.

Sponsor will receive all the benefits of Platinum Level sponsorship as well as prominent signage and acknowledgement at the event.

Suggested Starting Level: $10,000

Sponsorship of the Evening Poster Session Reception Wednesday, October 3, 2018

This evening reception takes place during the Poster Session, in which conference attendees have the opportunity to meet informally and discuss the latest in scientific research. The event will take place in the International Promenade at the Bell Harbor International Conference Center and will feature wine, beer, and hors d'oeuvres.

Sponsor will receive all the benefits of Platinum Level sponsorship as well as prominent signage and acknowledgement at the event.

Suggested Starting Level: $12,000

Sponsorship of the Conference Banquet at the Chihuly Garden and Glass
Thursday, October 4, 2018

Chihuly Garden and Glass offers a spectacular place to host our special occasion. Visually stunning, the Exhibition features eight Galleries, the Garden with its beautiful landscaping and monumental sculptures and the centerpiece Glasshouse – a dramatic structure housing an expansive 100-foot-long sculpture. Dine and delight in an extraordinary space perfect for entertaining.

Sponsor will receive all the benefits of Platinum Level sponsorship as well as prominent signage and acknowledgement at the event.

Suggested Starting Level: $15,000

Educational Outreach Training
Wednesday, October 3, 2018

Educational Outreach Training will be held in conjunction with the Symposium. The purpose of this training is to empower high school teachers with strategies and course materials for use in their classrooms. The instructional materials will focus on these subjects: HIV/AIDS research, ethical biomedical research and the responsible use of animal models. This training will be provided for up to 15 Seattle area high school teachers and facilitated by science education staff from the Northwest Association for Biomedical Research (NWABR.) Noted experts attending the symposium will interact with the teachers; discussing leading edge research, methods to incorporate this information in lesson plan development and ways to inspire the next generation of scientists.

Training will take place Wednesday afternoon at the symposium venue. Participating teachers will be invited to join the Symposium attendees at the Poster Session Reception that evening in International Promenade at the Bell Harbor International Conference Center.

Suggested Starting Level: $2,500

Other Sponsorship Opportunities

The 36th Annual Symposium on Nonhuman Primate Models for AIDS (NHP AIDS) is partially funded by a grant from the National Institute of Health (NIH). Grants and sponsorships help support the essential exchange of information critical to understanding and developing the next generation of AIDS vaccines and therapeutics. In addition, sponsorships also support specific conference programs such as the Early Investigators program which awards financial support to individuals early in their career but presenting information of significant impact to the AIDS research community. Any and all sponsorships are important and appreciated. General sponsorship levels are as follows:
